Two copies of each article should be submitted. These should be typescript, double spaced throughout (i.e. including references and quotations) and with ample margins. They should not normally exceed 7,500 words. References, quotation marks (N.B. single, not double, for standard quotations), etc. should conform to the recent style of the journal. Long discursive footnotes are discouraged and all notes should be collected at the end of the article. There should not be separate bibliographies but full references given in footnotes. Articles submitted in appropriate form will be refereed blind.

Authors will receive proofs but no alterations from the final typescript are permitted in proof. No responsibility is accepted for loss or damage to scripts and these are not returned unless stamped and addressed envelopes or international reply coupons are sent. Authors receive 20 free offprints and may order more at their cost with return of corrected proofs.

Books for review should be sent to the Journals Production Department, Oxford University Press, Great Clarendon Street, Oxford OX2 6DP. Unsolicited book reviews are not normally accepted.
